"CHARLIE'S PLACE" HAS NEW OWNER — On Jan. 1, Edleen Winslow, pictured above with her husband, Lawrence, bought "Charlie's Place" the popular pizza and sandwich shop on Main Street in Bethel from Charles Farrar. On July 9, 1973, Mr. Farrar opened the shop which is in the building where the late J. B. Chapman operated a bowling alley for many years.

BETHEL GIRL WINS LANGLEY TROPHY AT SUNDAY RIVER — Sarah Putnam of Bethel, a student at Telstar Middle School, won the Meredith Langley Wyman Memorial Ski Race at Sunday River Ski Area, Jan. 25. The 13-year-old girl skied the two-run giant slalom in a combined time of 78.31, sixth overall for the day. Peter Van Alstine of Camden was first overall with a combined time of 73.11. The trophy, first presented in 1968, is given in memory of Meredith Langley Wyman, a skier active in promoting and organizing ski races. Meredith's brother, Jay Langley, presented the trophy after Sunday's race. The race for Junior Eastern Racers Class III, IV, and V is a Southern Maine council qualifier for this age group. Other participants from Sunday River included: Monika Burk, 3rd, Class V Girls; Pete Denise 7th, Jay Lincoln, 10th, Class IV Boys; Marc Welch, 13th, Class III Boys.

The Board of Selectmen met Monday evening, Jan. 26, in the Bethel Savings Bank meeting room. The Licensing Board consisting of the Selectmen, Town Clerk and Treasurer approved a victualler's license for Edleen Winslow d/b/a Charlie's Place.

Pat Blake and Bonnie Angevine, representing a group of concerned parents, met with the Selectmen to discuss the meeting held at Crescent Park School last week which involved discussion of concerns regarding incidents of drugs, harassment and violence involving elementary school students. It was indicated that the concerned parents group was just starting and that they would like to work closely with municipal and school officials to try and solve some of these problems.

The Selectmen met in executive session with the Town's legal counsel to review the status of the two pending court cases with which the Town is involved.

Following this review the Board spent the remainder of the meeting on the 1981 budget.

With 1981 municipal elections drawing closer, residents are reminded that nomination papers for persons desiring to run for municipal offices must be submitted to the Town Office by the close of business on Monday, Feb. 9. In 1981 two Selectmen, two Assessors, and two S. A. D. #44 Directors will be elected.

As of Tuesday, Jan. 27, John T. Grover and Clarice Gibson have submitted nomination papers for Selectmen; Sam Eames and Arlan Jordrey have taken out nomination papers for Selectman. Robert Stevens and Arlan Jordrey have taken out papers for Assessor, and Harry Dresser has taken out papers for S. A. D. #44 Director.

BETHEL'S BILL KOCH LEAGUE HAS SUCCESSFUL "FRANK VOGT RACE DAY"

The Bethel area Bill Koch League's first home race of the season, dedicated "Frank Vogt Race Day" turned out very successfully. Although the area is generally lacking snow there was an excellent track and ideal weather conditions which completed the formula for a large turnout of competitors—46 in all—plus many parents, friends and spectators. Local youngsters who performed well in their respective classes are: Derek Brown, Matthew Bean, Brant Remington, Kevin Davis, Nathan Bean, Dean Angevine, Ellen Hastings, Brent Angevine and Jay Hastings.

The time and place for the clinic being planned for Feb. 4, will be announced at the next race.

The next scheduled race is at Andover, Feb. 1, at 11 a. m. Any area youngsters, 13 years or younger, interested in competing are urged to contact Don Angevine at 824-3343 or Anita Remington at 824-3369 for information about car pooling.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO FEATURE CHURCH STREET AT MONTHLY MEETING FEB. 5

"Church Street Through the Years" will be the featured topic at the monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society, Thursday evening, Feb. 5, at 7:30 p. m. in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. Mrs. Rosalind Chapman, who has researched an article on the street which will appear in the Society's forthcoming issue of the newsletter, the "Bethel Courier," will have charge of the program. This will include slides of photographs, the telling of anecdotes associated with the street and its people plus an exhibit of any available artifacts.

Anyone with photographs, artifacts or anecdotes is especially urged to share them with the group by attending the meeting, calling Mrs. Chapman or notifying the Society office at 824-2908.

Refreshments will follow the program and anyone interested is cordially invited to attend.

S. A. D. #44 DIRECTORS TO MEET AT ANDOVER FEB. 2

A regular meeting of the M. S. A. D. #44 board of directors will be held at the Andover Elementary School next Monday evening, Feb. 2, at 7:30.

Agenda items will include the appointment of a junior varsity baseball coach at the high school. There will be a presentation concerning the FY '82 budget including: revenue for FY '82; review of expenditures; recommended changes to accomplish the proposed budget; budget's impact on S. A. D. #44 towns; impact of proposed FY '82 budget on FY '83 budget.

The directors will set a date for the meeting of the committee to determine the necessity of reconsidering the method of sharing S. A. D. #44 costs. This committee will consist of a school director from each town and two members chosen by each town's selectmen. Each town's representatives on the S. A. D. #44 board will decide which of their number will serve on the committee.

AMERICAN LEGION & BETHEL CHURCHES TO OBSERVE FOUR CHAPLAINS SUNDAY

Members of Mundt-Allen American Legion Post and Unit will be making a special effort to attend church services on Sunday, Feb. 1, in observance of Four Chaplains Sunday. Rev. Norman Rust, pastor of the West Parish Congregational Church, will be delivering a special sermon on the Four Chaplains in a union service with the United Methodists at the Bethel Methodist Church at 10:30 Sunday morning.

Other forthcoming activities of the local American Legion will include attendance at the Oxford County Council meeting on Feb. 17 at Jackson-Silver Post Home, Locke Mills, and regular meetings of Mundt-Allen Post and Auxiliary, scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 24, in Bethel.

Tri Town Ambulance and Emergency Rescue Service Aiming for April 1 Start

Tri Town Ambulance and Emergency Rescue Service, recently organized for the purpose of supplying ambulance service to the towns of Greenwood, Woodstock and West Paris, has many plans and projects underway in order to have staff and equipment ready to start operations on Wednesday, April 1.

A class for training Emergency Medical Technicians will start on Feb. 23 at Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway. Anyone in the area, willing to serve on the volunteer rescue squad, is urged to contact the ambulance service by writing T.T.A.E.R.S., West Paris, Maine 04289 for further information or to register for this course.

An Advisory Council meeting is scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 1, at the fire station in West Paris. Also of utmost importance is the Annual Membership Meeting on Thursday, Feb. 5, at the Woodstock Town Hall in Bryant Pond Village. A coffee and doughnut social hour will be held from 6-7 p. m., following the business meeting.

U. OF M. TRAVELING ART TO BE AT GOULD ACADEMY

Opening on Tuesday, Feb. 3, and continuing through Friday, Feb. 20, will be an exhibition of 15 artists' work from the collections of the University of Maine.

For more than 100 years, the State of Maine has been a haven for artists of all kinds—some coming here for short summers of frantic sketching, while others established themselves in out-of-way places, such as the deep woods, along the coast or on remote islands. A listing of these artists reads like an inventory of the history of American Art.

This exhibition presents a selection of artists, most of whom are now living and/or working in Maine at this time. A wide variety of subjects, techniques, styles and mediums are presented, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

The exhibition will be held in the James B. Owen Art Gallery on the campus of Gould Academy. The gallery is open daily from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., and from 2 to 4 p. m. on Saturday and Sunday. There is no admission charge.

UNION WORSHIP SERVICES AT BETHEL METHODIST CHURCH DURING FEBRUARY

During the month of February the congregations of the Bethel United Methodist Church and the West Parish Congregational Church will be meeting together for Sunday morning worship services at the Bethel United Methodist Church. Services begin at 10:30 a. m.

Rev. Norman F. Rust will assist Rev. Millett Cummings and be the guest preacher during February while the union services are being held in the Methodist Church.

During January the two congregations met at the West Parish Congregational Church and Rev.

ed by the business meeting. Agenda items include: report of programs already in progress; future actions and plans; election of officers; a short business session; question and answer period and an opportunity to hear suggestions from members. All citizens of the tri-town area are urged to attend to offer their suggestions and/or services either as active or auxiliary members of the group. The support of residents of all three communities is needed to get this service ready by April 1. Tentative plans also include a fund drive the week of March 22, for which volunteers will be needed.

Help of other area persons has been invaluable at this time of organization. Lenwood Andrews of I. W. Andrews and Sons; Joan Lee, Tri County Emergency Medical Services, Lewiston; and members of the Bethel Emergency Ambulance and Rescue Service have all contributed much time, effort and information. Their support is greatly appreciated.

FRIDAY NIGHT AUTO CRASH TAKES LIFE OF TELSTAR

DANISH EXCHANGE STUDENT
A foreign exchange student attending Telstar Regional High School lost his life in a single car accident last Friday night on Route 26 in Woodstock.

State Trooper Richard Donald of Bethel, said the young man, Lars M. Rasmussen, 18, of Denmark, was a passenger in a car driven by 18-year-old Barbara E. White of Albany. She was listed in fair condition at Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway, Sunday night, reportedly suffering a broken leg, contusions of the forehead, chest, right lung and left foot and a lacerated right wrist.

Trooper Donald stated the accident occurred in a section between North and South Ponds as Miss White was travelling north. The sedan, he said, failed to negotiate a right curve, slid across the southbound lane onto the shoulder and eventually struck a large pine tree broadside by the front passenger door. The 1974 auto was demolished in the 10:25 p. m. mishap.

Assisting Trooper Donald were Trooper Percy Turner, Buckfield, and Bob Harmon of North Waterford, and Lt. Bill Williams and Sgt. Geoff Low, both of the Oxford County Sheriff's Department.

Mr. Rasmussen resided with the Howard Gunther family of Bethel and was a member of the senior class at Telstar where he participated in soccer and skiing.

Cummings was the guest preacher there. Also during January and continuing on until Easter the choirs of the two churches and the Gould Academy Madrigal Singers have been rehearsing the "Messiah" at the Garland Memorial Chapel at 7 p. m. each Thursday. Any singer wishing to join this group is cordially invited.

At long last a little respite from the sub-zero temperatures. Sunday our temperature got up to 36° above. With the days over 40 minutes longer this gives more time to warm the air before it begins to cool again. This is the time of year when our plants really take on a new meaning as everything outdoors is drab. I found one Christmas cactus has over 10 buds and blossoms and another one has over 20. What if they are a month late! Saturday, as was most of the week, was also some warmer. When I got up and looked out in the grove, three gray squirrels were having so much fun running and jumping from one branch to the other (think it has been so cold before they had stayed inside more). Like humans the third one was more or less left out as two of them were chasing each other up and down the trees sometimes running across the snow to another tree to climb sometimes making a leap from a branch of one tree to the branch of another. The third was off by himself scampering up and down his trees with the same abandon as the other two.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rotroff of Lewiston spent Friday night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Murphy and two girls of Sebago Lake spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy.

Mrs. Randy (Mindy) Gilbert, daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. George Gilbert, was taken to the Rumford hospital Tuesday and transferred to the Lewiston hospital, Saturday.

Mrs. Pat Saunders has a different car as her gray one got totaled in an accident Jan. 2.

Mrs. Evelyn Hilborn has traded for a different car and is enjoying it. She has taken several small trips and has asked neighbors to go with her. Sunday she went to North Conway, N. H., to watch the skiers and then took a drive through Grafton Notch. Evelyn had began to have trouble with an odor when she used her water. She asked one of the neighbors to please check her well for her and he found two dead rabbits. I had forgotten about it, but after her telling about it, I remember when we lived in East Stoneham, Dad finding a dead skunk in our well.

Alberta Angevine was babysitting Monday as Judy Coolidge was substitute teaching.

Timmy Angevine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Angevine, was home sick Monday.

Sam McCoy came home Jan. 19 by Berlin ambulance because of the death of his mother. The funeral was held at the Chapman Homestead on Friday. Alger Chapman, nephew of Mrs. Robert McCoy, came to the McCoy's Thursday and stayed until Saturday.

We also think of Walter Clark on the death of his father last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason Jr. and Melinda went Saturday to Orland, where they visited the Charles Bishops. They returned on Sunday.

Frank Benson was operated on Jan. 20 and came home Jan. 22. Visitors since coming home have been Walter Newell, Locke Mills; Wilbur Sweetser, Ruel Swain, Raymond Chapman, Joan Coolidge and Owen Bonney. Mr. and Mrs. Davis Kimball and girls came Saturday night for supper. Mr. and Mrs.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chapman Joan Deegan and Carroll Murphy spent the week end at Spencer Bay Camps, Moosehead, where they went ice fishing. Vince stayed with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapman and Nick went to Mr. and Mrs. Tony Chapman's and daughter.

Nick Chapman started swimming lessons at Mollycodd Motel Monday.

Becky Shaw has been taking cooking lessons with micro wave ovens in Lewiston.

Saturday, Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Shaw joined her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keniston, and brother and family, the David Kenistons, for supper.

Sheri Angevine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Angevine, has applied for and been accepted to Dean Junior College, in Franklin, Mass.

Bringing Beauty In Margaret C. Sangster

It's fun to make a simple room, As plain as it can be, A wonder place of warmth and hope,

Of cheer and mystery. It's fun to paint a bit of wood, To hang a curtain bright, To make a pretty shade of silk To hide a glaring light.

Oh, some folks dwell in palaces, With stately marble halls, Their windows look on garden spots,

With vine-entangled walls. The furniture they own is grand, The rugs are soft and rare— But can they ever know the thrill Of bringing beauty there?

I'd rather—almost—have the joy Of moving things about, Of turning tables clear around, And pillows inside out— Of patching, trimming, furnishing, Of matching chintz and lace— Of putting charm into a room That sadly lacked in grace!

TELSTAR SKI TEAM NEWS

ALPINE

The Telstar alpine team had two meets during the past week. On Jan. 19, the girls were narrow losers to Gould while the boys lost by a larger margin. The two run slalom at Sunday River with extremely fast and aggressive skiing produced numerous falls by both teams. Kara Flynn had her best race of the season, finishing third only two seconds behind Gould standout Holly Bancroft. Jill O'Donnell was fourth and Kathy Swain, sixth. In the boys race, Gould skiers Jack Donnelly and Chuck Starr, a local resident, led the way. Rob James and Chris Mills were close behind in third and fourth positions. Only three other Telstar skiers finished the race.

On Jan. 26, the boys defeated Fryeburg and Livermore Falls in a two-run giant slalom held at Sunday River. The girls beat Livermore but lost to the powerful Fryeburg squad. The boys winning margin was only .03. Falls again played an important role. Robby James, first after the first run, and Ross Swan only in a contending position, had difficulties on the second run. James did not finish and Swan lost considerable time. However other team members came through. Sophomore Chris Mills notched his first win of the season. Rick Savage followed in third, his best showing ever. Bryan O'Donnell was fifth and Jon Owen's tenth place sealed the victory. The girls were hampered by the loss of Jill O'Donnell due to illness. They were led by Heidi

NORDIC

On Jan. 19 the Telstar boys and girls cross country ski teams came up with a split decision at Gould. The girls were defeated by Oxford Hills due to the absence of some key team members. Meanwhile the boys defeated a very good Oxford Hills team and a Gould team which was also missing some key members.

In the girls' race Virginia Kelly was the individual winner with a time of 17:14 for the five kilometer course. She was followed by teammate Laurie Vogt at 18:18 in second place. Julie Hastings captured sixth and Myra Otero in her first race ever, finished 15th. The score was Oxford Hills 88.51-Telstar 83.51.

In the boys' race, Eric Hastings again won first place by bettering runner-up Jim Newman of Oxford Hills by two minutes and 20 seconds. Andy Chase of Locke Mills was third; Laurence Smith, seventh; Jerry Dennis, eighth, and Chuck Jaros, 14th.

Don't forget the Telstar relays, Saturday, Jan. 31, at the Bethel Inn—10 a. m.

Thank you, Burnie Rice, for snowing the ski jump.

Burk in second and Kara Flynn in seventh.

Some team members will again be competing in a NARA downhill race at Sugarloaf this week.

School races tentatively scheduled for next week are Gould at home and away races at Mt. Cranmore vs. Kennett and Fryeburg, and at Farmington vs. Mt. Blue.

Newry

—Miss Amy Hanscom, Corres.

The Newry Ladies Group of Extension met Wednesday at the home of Elsie Inman. The subject was Taking Prescription Drugs.

Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be Feb. 18, at the home of Marjorie Cummings. The topic will be Safety.

Mr. and Mrs. David Lowell are parents of a daughter, born Jan. 19, at the Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morton are parents of a daughter born Jan. 24, at Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway. The baby has been named Emily Sue. Mrs. Marilyn Wheeler, West Bethel, is maternal grandmother. Mrs. Eleanor Morton of Newry, is paternal grandmother.

Word has been received that Julia Ball, formerly of Newry, fell recently and broke a bone in her foot. She has her foot in a cast. Miss Ball celebrated her 100th birthday Dec. 12. Her niece, Mrs. Elizabeth Duran and daughter, Sandra, are staying with her for the present.

The Ladies Circle will meet Monday evening at 7:30, Feb. 2, at Nancy Hanscom's.

Windy Valleys Snowmobile Club—Thursday, Jan. 22, June and Lee Swan attended a Ride In '81 meeting in Carthage to make more plans for the ride-in and ski-in scheduled for Feb. 22. Sunday, Jan. 25, seven members and seven guests enjoyed a snowmobile ride in Grafton and had a cook out.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Swan Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. George Stearns of Mexico.

Washington Watch

by Olympia J. Snowe
Member of Congress
2nd District, Maine

The sun broke through the puffs of fleecy clouds and, as if on cue, reflected off the stately white dome.

Below the awesome dome, below the yards of bunting on the west facade of the Capitol and above a respectful throng of Americans, Ronald Wilson Reagan took the oath of office as 40th president of the United States. As the new president uttered the words "so help me God" at the end of the presidential oath, cannons roared through the false-spring morning and the crowd responded with its own joyous clamor. The mantle of power had passed in a celebration of our democratic system.

This was an inauguration that was like none before it. As the minutes ticked down on the old administration, a disbelieving nation heard the news it had waited 14 grueling months to hear: at last, freedom for our hostages in Iran had been secured. The inauguration became both the celebration of a new presidency and a fitting ending for an embattled outgoing president.

America breathed a collective sigh of relief when the final news of the hostages' flight to freedom became known. In every sense, the Iranian debacle had been a national tragedy. Ending the crisis similarly became a national triumph. In the end, determined work had paid off and an unjust chapter of American history had come to a close.

For the American team which had worked frantically to end the crisis in the final days of the old administration, including our own Secretary of State Edmund Muskie, the liberation of the hostages had a bizarre quality, as had most of the frustrating sequences in the crisis. Fate would not allow the old administration to savor the fruit of its labors, for even as the wheels of the planes carrying the hostages from Iran left the runway, President Reagan was delivering to the nation his inaugural address.

The irony of the situation was inescapable. Here was a new president accepting the reins of power from his predecessor. At the time of the transfer of authority, a crisis was ended that it could be argued, brought about the demise of the old administration. The irony was not lost on President Reagan, who gracefully designated his vanquished predecessor, former President Carter, to greet the hostages at the decompression site in West Germany.

The end of the hostage situation is a blessing in many forms. First and foremost, it is a time of great joy for the hostages themselves, who have endured a situation that most of us can only imagine, and for their families, who have shared this terrible burden.

It is a blessing in that we can now examine our actions in regard to the entire situation and determine whether we chose the right course. We never can afford to allow such experiences to slip from our consciousness without learning from them, and lessons abound here.

And finally, it is a blessing for two presidents who exchanged the authority to the most exciting, most frustrating job in the world. All of us, I'm sure, shared a hope that President Carter would somehow find an end to this ordeal before his term in office ended. After the demands that we place on our presidents through service in the nation's job, how can we fail to be happy that this man from Georgia would be allowed to live out a productive retirement without the weight of the hostages on his conscience?

For President Reagan, the resolution of the crisis is one less problem that he will have to tackle in the months ahead. A staggering economy begs attention, as the new president quickly acknowledged in his inaugural address. An overweight federal government demands action. The days ahead will be formidable for the new president and the new Congress, but one overwhelming worry is behind us.

(For more information on these and other topics, write us at 136 Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D. C. 20515 or call our Maine number toll-free at 1-800-432-1599.)

PUBLIC NOTICE
WASTE DISCHARGE LICENSE
Pursuant to Title 33, Maine Revised Statutes Annotated, Section 418, the Board of Environmental Protection hereby invites public comments on the proposed Log Storage Permit requested by Lovell Lumber Co., Inc. of Lovell, Maine.

Lovell Lumber Co., has requested the Board to allow the Company to store saw logs for a one year period in a 5 acre storage area in the Kezar River, Class B-1, at a point adjacent to the Company's sawmill site above the Kezar-Mill Pond Dam in Lovell. This proposal will allow the temporary storage of blowdown timber until the mill can process the salvaged timber. The company proposes to store no more than 300 cords of wood in the Kezar River at any one time.

Further information relative to the proposal may be obtained in the office of the Department of Environmental Protection, Augusta, Maine from 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m., Monday through Friday or by calling Mr. Michael Westphal of the Department at 289-3355.

Any person may submit a request in writing for a public hearing to consider the proposal. The request must indicate the interest of the party filing such request, and the reasons why such a hearing is warranted. A public hearing may be held if the Board determines that there is significant public interest in holding such a hearing.

All comments pertaining to the above should be addressed to: Michael Westphal, Bureau of Water Quality Control, Department of Environmental Protection, State House, Augusta, Maine 04333; and should be received in the office of the Department prior to 5:00 p. m. (prevailing time) on Feb. 12, 1981.

Albany HUNT'S CORNER AND VICINITY

— Kathy Bennett, Corres. —

A dreary looking day has begun but there seems to be a glimmer of hope that warmer weather is on the way with temperatures in the 40's. Let's hope it doesn't return to minus 0 degrees again.

Elna and Rus Hale and Rodney White were Sunday dinner guests of Albert and Elna McAlister.

Franklin and Margaret Barton called on Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Graffam on Saturday evening.

Callers at the Barton Farm during the week were Alice and Bernard Graffam and Dick and I and the boys.

Edwin Bumpus and Ruth Bumpus called on Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stearns this last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Inman and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pope called on Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gould and Janice, Saturday evening.

Last evening, Jason Inman celebrated his fourth birthday with the following people, his Dad Andy Inman, and Cathy Inman, Mike and June Inman and children, Terry and Frank Howard and Doreth, Barb and Howard Inman and Renita, Bob and Millie Pope, and James and Rhonda Tibbets and sons.

Last Monday, the following five sisters got together for a belated Christmas gathering. They were Helen Ring, Ruth Dunham, Edith Hathaway, Beatrice Farnum, and Alice Wardwell. They met at the home of Mrs. Helen Ring.

Callers at the Wardwell Farm last week were Verna Robinson and Herman Getchell from Gorham.

Edith Holt spent last Tuesday visiting Sarah Andrews. Last Friday and Saturday Sarah went to Brockton, Mass., with her sisters to attend the funeral of their aunt, Sadie Jacques.

Sunday Sarah attended a baby shower for her granddaughter, Nancy Ward, in South Paris.

Jack Kavanagh and Sarah Paten of North Lovell visited Mr. and Mrs. Tim Kavanagh on Sunday.

Life at K-D's Acres is beginning to liven up a little. Thoughts of next year's garden are beginning to come forth. (Also thoughts of next year's wood pile!) That makes me groan as I know how much work it is to harvest and store 15 cords of wood!

Callers last week were Polly and Paul McAlister, Jeff Barton, Margaret Barton, Jeff Hooker, Chris and Elton Cole and Megan.

Dan Bennett spent Saturday visiting his friend, Mike Thompson, of Robinson Hill.

Saturday evening we went over to Chris and Elton Cole's to play cards.

Have a good week everyone.

Bragan, Robert Westleigh and Terry Bragan. Shane Svach, Ricky Bragan and Terry Bragan received uniforms.

Guards: Donna Barker and Pamela Pierce passed the Lighthouse Test and received uniforms. Glori Bolio received Compass rank. The following received an achievement charm for attendance: Glori Bolio, Brenda Farnum, June House, Donna Barker, Ruth Lang, Julie Merrill, Hume Bolio, and Mary Pierce. Brenda Farnum and Ruth Lang received uniforms.

Pioneers: Jeffrey Coffin, Asa Taylor, and Brian Abbott passed the Covered Wagon Test and received either an Explorer attendance bar or star for attendance: Jeffrey Coffin, Dana Dyke, Eric Hoyt, Eric Johnson, Brian Abbott, Asa Taylor and Reggie Westleigh. Eric Hoyt received a uniform. Eric Johnson received Explorer rank.

PROJECT CHILD FIND UNDERWAY IN S. A. D. #44

— Mrs. Marjorie Jodrey, Corres. —

Project Childfind is underway in S. A. D. #44. The project is a search for all handicapped children from one week to five years of age. These children may have handicapping conditions which are physical, developmental, social, behavioral, or emotional. These are services available for even mild conditions. The sooner help can be provided, the better chance the child has of overcoming some or all of the possible damaging effects of the condition. Parents will be involved in all phases of their child's participation in a program.

If you know of such a child, please notify the Coordinator or Special Education at Telstar Middle School, 824-2582, contact your school, or tell your pastor. Although the search is on-going, the concentration of effort will be from January 26, 1981, through February 6, 1981.

BOY SCOUT TROOP 540
Boy Scout Troop 540 of Bryant Pond and Locke Mills, held its meeting Jan. 25 with eight of 10 members present. The roster at this time is: Clayton Howe, Senior Patrol Leader; Bobcat Patrol, Randy Wilson, Patrol Leader, Alan Wilson, Dennis Swan, Randy Hooper, Dick Wright; Hawk Patrol, Bob Hoyt, Patrol Leader, Jeff Howe, Kevin York, Kenny Viger.

Preceding the opening ceremony all those present observed a moment of silence in memory of the eight servicemen lost in the hostage rescue attempt and thanks for having the hostages home again.

After the minutes of the last meeting were read and each patrol held their separate meetings, Scoutmaster Bartlett told of the forthcoming events:

Jan. 29, the troop has been invited by the local Cub Scout unit to sit in on a lecture of Indian lore. This being held at 7 p. m. in the Legion Hall.

Feb. 8, all scouts are encouraged to attend church to observe Scout Sunday.

Feb. 8, at 2 p. m. is the Charter Presentation at the Legion Hall. This is the time the troop receives a certificate acknowledging it as a unit of the Boy Scouts of America, and boys receive any awards they have earned in the previous months. All parents and those interested are welcome to attend.

The boys decided to serve refreshments at the meetings with the patrols taking turns furnishing them. Bobcat patrol will be bringing refreshments for the Feb. 1 meeting.

After the closing of the meeting Scoutmaster Bartlett showed the boys the building to be used as troop headquarters.

Andover

— Mrs. Marjorie Jodrey, Corres. —

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy McIntyre and children, Ben and Emily, spent the week end visiting her aunt, Mrs. Clifford Bullock, in Keene, N. H.

The Andover Senior Citizen Group met at the Christian Education Building on Monday, Jan. 26. A pot luck luncheon was served, to 16 members.

Sfc. E7 and Mrs. Dennis Kerschner (nee Melanie Johnston) and children, Trudi, Peter and Robin, have returned from three years in Aschaffenburg, Germany. They are spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnston. Peter and Trudi are attending school while they are here.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis McCourt of New Sharon were recent supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Kerschner. The McCourts stayed with the Kerschner family on their trip to Europe last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Humphrey, Manchester, N. H., were overnight guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jodrey, on their way to a funeral in Strong.

Sgt. and Mrs. Jack McGloin and children are moving this week to Bath.

Paul Nevel returned this week to his sporting camps on Nahamant Lake for the ice fishing season.

The Youth Group from Calvary Congregational Church will meet with the Mexico High School Youth Group for a roller skating party, Jan. 19. Rev. Grover and Rev. and Mrs. Francis Berry furnished transportation to meet the Mexico bus. Those from the Youth Group members attending were Sharon Cox, Donald Grover Jr., Tommy Holmes, Marie Miller, Karen Sennett and Diane Wells.

Progress on the Parsonage of the Calvary Congregational Church has accelerated with the warm weather. Just about all the outside work has been accomplished. This week it is expected that the insulation and wiring will be started and now that it is closed-in workers will be able to move on regardless of the weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bailey were given a welcome home party by the Calvary Congregational Church on Jan. 21 at the home of

HAKALA PROMOTED TO MASTER SERGEANT

— Mrs. Marjorie Jodrey, Corres. —

Wayne E. Hakala, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hakala of Route 1, West Paris, has been promoted in the U. S. Air Force to the rank of master sergeant.

Hakala is a training instructor at Ramstein Air Base, West Germany.

Lorena Simmons. Entertainment, refreshments and a short prayer meeting was enjoyed by the congregation. A gift of money was presented to the young couple, who have recently returned from Alaska, where Mr. Bailey was stationed in the armed forces.

The Andover Public Library Association met on Jan. 21 with a full agenda. President Eleanor Tracy read a letter of resignation from librarian Margaret Learned. Mrs. Learned stated personal reasons prompted her retirement after having served as librarian for 30 years. The trustees voted to delay filling vacancies until their next meeting, and appointed Mrs. Evelyn Bell, the present assistant, to serve as acting librarian. It was announced that the GFWC Andover Friday Club has given $200 to the library for the expressed purpose of buying new books. Mrs. Ellie Tracy and Mrs. Betsy Mixer represented the Library Association at the town budget committee meeting on Monday, Jan. 26.

CARD OF THANKS
My most sincere thanks and deepest appreciation for all the prayers and well wishes of so many friends and family during my recent stay at the Rumford Community Hospital; for all the T.L.C. while there, to Jane and Sue for their daily visits. Special thanks to Rev. Norman Rust for his calls and concern, the Women's Fellowship and my beautiful family for their lovely flowers, and to the staff of Bethel Area Health Center. Thank you Jean. You all light up my life. God Bless.

NOTES FROM Evans Notch

— Mrs. Jo Sanderson, Cor. —

On Feb. 4, personnel from the Evans Notch District will host an information session concerning the damage caused by the December windstorm. The session will be held at Telstar Regional High School beginning at 7:30 p. m. A one-half hour slide presentation will be followed by a question and answer period. You are invited to attend and learn more of your National Forest.

North Waterford

What a week it was in Jan. 19, 1981.

The inauguration of Ronald Reagan; the release of our hostages. We all were praying and hoping they would take off on their first lap towards home. They reached U. S. shores Sunday, Jan. 25, and finally were reunited with their loved ones after 14 months of brutal captivity.

We went fishing Thursday and caught our limit of pickerel. They sure tasted good and helped out on our grocery bill.

There is a lot of sickness in this area. Merline Littlehale is home after a short stay in the hospital.

There will be a baby shower for Mrs. Joe Jopling this Thursday night at the church vestry. They were burned out about 10 days ago and she lost all her baby things.

John Wentworth has finished the blown down timber on Lee Lord's and has moved his crew to Ewering Valley where they will continue logging.

Richard James is still working on his tree farm.

THIS WEEK IN THE State Senate

by Senator Roland L. Sutton
(R-Oxford County)

Consumer Credit Bill Among Several Confronting Business Legislation Committee

A bill that would set a maximum interest rate that could be charged on consumer credit is one of several key bills referred to the Business Legislation Committee, which I serve as chairman. The Business Legislation Committee is the busiest Legislative Committee other than the Appropriation Committee. Last session over 170 bills came before Business Legislation. We expect bills on the Bottle Bill, Billboards, and a bill to allow a charge on bank credit cards along with many other affecting business regulations of all kinds.

I also serve on the Labor committee, the committee I was chairman of last session, and this has helped me to keep my perspective on how business affects labor and vice versa. For example, one bill now being studied by the Labor Committee would allow changes in the Workers Compensation law, which is one of the costliest in the nation. We will also hear bills on allowing binding arbitration for public employees and/or the provision to strike. There will also be many unemployment bills.

Few taxpayers realize just how great the legislative load is each time we begin a new session at the State House. In this year's session, for example, we expect to have to review and pass judgement on close to 2,000 bills, generated in the House and Senate. Some of the hardest battles are fought over bills involving money because your interest, your pocketbook as a taxpayer, is at stake. The will of the majority will prevail. And in the Maine Senate, the Republicans hold the majority and will use this strength in what they strongly believe is in the best interest of the majority of the electorate.

Some bills are less controversial than others. And some would appear to answer a long-felt need to do something about urgent problems. One is proliferation of drug abuse at a younger and younger age. This is one of the horrors that too many parents have to face today. One of the bills addressing this problem is an act to prohibit the sale and use of drug paraphernalia—pot pipes and other devices encouraging the use of drugs. One of its provisions makes delivery of drug paraphernalia to a child by an adult a special offense. So is publication or commercial advertisement in comic books or wherever—promoting the sale of drug paraphernalia. If this bill is approved it is hoped it will help to limit the temptation of young people to fall into the trap of taking drugs.

One of the most controversial bills proposed is one that calls for a moment of silence for meditation at the commencement of classes in the public schools. As a co-sponsor of this bill, I am aware of the need for separation of church and state. This bill does not intend to promote any religion. It does intend to promote a sense of discipline and morality in one minute of quiet meditation. Surely that is not too much to ask. I think every teacher would welcome it, and so would most parents. If you would like to express your opinion about this bill, drop me a note or give me a call.

A lot of concern has been voiced about the state's maintenance of roads this winter. But that's only the tip of the iceberg as far as the Department of Transportation is concerned. DOT has a huge deficit that will have to be met

ANDOVER LIBRARIAN RETIRES AFTER 30 YEARS SERVICE

At the recent meeting of the Andover Public Library Association, President Eleanor Tracy read a letter of resignation from Librarian Margaret Learned to become effective the end of December 1980. Because the December trustees meeting was cancelled, Mrs. Learned agreed to stay on temporarily until the trustees could act on her letter, in January. Mrs. Learned stated age and personal reasons prompted her retirement. Her letter of intent, which came as a surprise to many trustees, was received with regret. Mrs. Learned offered the trustees her assistance during the change-over period, which was greatly appreciated. She was asked to remain one month past her official retirement date to help with the transition. Mrs. Learned has been the librarian in Andover for 30 years; she will be missed.

After much discussion, trustees voted to delay permanent appointments until their next meeting on Feb. 11, 1981. In the interim, trustees Mrs. Linda Percival, Mrs. Roberta Learned, Mrs. Virginia Daigle, and Association vice-president, Mrs. Betsey Fisher, will up-date the job descriptions of the three library positions.

The assistant librarian, Mrs. Evelyn Bell, was appointed acting librarian. Mrs. Bell, who has indicated she would like the librarian post, will be offered the job following clarification of duties.

Two positions are now available at the Andover Library—an assistant librarian, to work when the regular librarian is unavailable; and a substitute, who works only when both librarians are unable. The trustees will accept applications for either position until Feb. 10. Anyone interested in either job should contact Mrs. Linda Percival who is handling the application process for the Library Association.

The Andover Library is open nine hours weekly during the winter.

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST

The insurance policy contains such technical terms—proof of ownership—proof of loss—or such written by insurer—security safeguard and the absence of legal notice of claim—and there's a fee.

No doubt of it—insurance is quite necessary, especially to protect ourselves against loss.

Now there is, on the market a policy named "Assurance Insurance Plan"—and it's different in that it covers something—really worth while—which you do not already possess. The cost of the policy is free—it's been paid for by the Director's Son. Upon accepting this plan, and it's available to all—you immediately became a stock holder with full benefits that are guaranteed. Numerous advantages are yours too—if you read and exercise the privileges—the "gifts" the Director gives you.

The Policy makes exceptional reading—though difficult it may be at first—the third Member of the Board, often called "Teacher"—will explain it as you show interest.

To obtain membership in this, and it is a closed—"living" organization—is simply to know for sure you have a need—that through some funding means. One proposal is for a bond issue. But that's only a stop-gap measure. It doesn't begin to solve the problem of adequate funding. There are bridges that need to be repaired or replaced. There are roads that need attention or better care, especially in the hazardous driving months of winter. And in Maine, that's a lot of months. The funding problem will have to be met so these needs can be met. No one wants a tax increase. And no one wants to rob Peter to pay Paul. We'll be taking a very careful look at the Governor's proposed budget to see how best these needs can be met and in a way that is fiscally responsible. Let me know if you have any thoughts.

This past week was not entirely one of discussing bills before the Legislature. My wife and I were fortunate to be able to attend the inauguration of President Reagan, one of the happiest times we've ever shared. We came away with a renewed sense of purpose and patriotism. At all the affairs, receptions, inaugurations, parades and ball, there was high optimism, that things were going to be moving in the right direction and the release of the prisoners at the same time topped it off beautifully.

More later and best regards.

ADULT ED. HIGH SCHOOL COMPLETION PROGRAM NOW HAS DAYTIME CLASS

The week of Jan. 28 marks the opening of the Fire Station School in Bethel, the daytime High School completion program for adults. Classes in Refresher Math and Basic English will be held on Monday and Thursday mornings respectively.

Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell feels that the daytime classes will allow adults who have not been able to participate in the evening classes because of family or job conflicts to work on their high school diplomas.

Instructors for the Fire Station School are to be Barbara Lucas of Bethel and Andrea Hoyt of Bryant Pond. Much of the work at the Fire Station School will be individualized with students working on areas of particular interest or need. The classes will be small, allowing for necessary individual attention from the instructors.

The Fire Station School will be open from 9 to 12 on class days through the middle of May. Students may enroll throughout the semester.

For more information about the Fire Station School, adults should call the Adult and Community Education office, 824-2136, or Mrs. Newell at home, 824-2089.

BUCKFIELD TOPS TELSTAR

54-28 IN TUESDAY BASKETBALL
Visiting Buckfield High broke open a close basketball game in the second half Tuesday night and finished with a 54-28 win over Telstar.

The Bucks held a narrow three point lead at the half, but 18 Telstar turnovers in the third quarter enabled the visitors to assume

The University of Maine at Orono's animal and medical technology course is the only fully accredited two-year program now being offered in New England. But far from resting on this accomplishment for undergraduates, the program is strengthening its base of achievements by offering a continuing education program throughout the state for technicians who have graduated from UMO as well as for other technicians and veterinarians. Seminars are being held to update and familiarize technicians with blood work, clinical chemistry and microscopic cell work.

something's not right—in fact, in some cases so totally wrong that we don't feel fit to make application—but, that's when the benefit or reward is the greatest! Some try to buy their way in, but that's impossible—it's paid for and we find our money is worth nothing—as one man wrote—I Peter 1:18—"not redeemed with silver and gold."

The Director of this organization has been rejected over the ages and finally had to send Son—John 3:16—who knocks at every door—of course not on the house door—but at the door of the heart and asks to come in—Rev. 3:20—there's no way for him to come in as there is no handle on his side of the door. You must open the door (of your heart) to receive him. Now you have endeavored to get your house in order, but try as you will, it's still not right—"For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." Rom. 3:23. But when he comes in, he "cleans"—it then the surprise of it all—he sends a housekeeper—the Comforter, the Holy Spirit—Acts 2:4.

Now this is not a fairy tale—"For God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and a sound mind." II Tim. 1:7.
It's yours for the asking.
Fred Werner

A series of programs designed for Maine management personnel will be offered during the first six months of 1981 by the University of Maine at Orono College of Business Administration. The programs, the first of which started Jan. 26, will vary in length from one day to seminars meeting once a week for four or five weeks and are offered to meet management needs in a changing technological environment. Among the programs are management for women, Feb. 12-March 5; basics of supervision for first-level supervisors, March 5-26; general accounting for business people with limited formal accounting training, March 19-April 9; effective sales management for line sales executives, April 23-May 21; small business computer systems, May 4-13. All are scheduled in the Bangor-Orono area except the management program for women which will be held in Augusta.

S. A. D. #44 BOARD RECEIVES PETITION SEEKING CHANGE OF COST-SHARING FORMULA

Greenwood and Newry have presented petitions, bearing 219 signatures, to the Board of Directors of School Administrative District #44, asking for a meeting to determine the necessity of changing the method of sharing costs among the towns of M.S.A.D. #44. Two hundred and three signatures are required. These petitions will be acted upon at the Board meeting Feb. 2. At this time it is understood that a date will be set for a meeting to vote on the matter. Each town in the district will be represented at this meeting by two members from each town selected by the selectmen and one district director, selected by the directors. If a majority of those representatives present and voting decide in favor of a change, a meeting will then be called in which all voters in the district may vote. A majority vote at this meeting would mean that the method would be changed.

Costs are now distributed according to the state valuation of each town. If approved by the voters this may be changed by a percentage per pupil and state valuation method. This may be, by five percentage points, from 15% state valuation and 85% per pupil to 85% state valuation and 15% per pupil.

A 30-20 lead at the end of the period. Then, in the final eight minutes, Buckfield's Mike Berg netted 11 of his game high 22 points to help put the contest on ice.

Berg was joined in double figures by teammate Bruce Campbell (13) and by the Rebels' Jeff Bartlett (14).

Telstar took the junior varsity game by a 46-27 margin.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

It appears to me to be rather inconsistent and certainly short-sighted to protest the use of our area for a training ground for our armed services. This "somewhere else, but not here" attitude defies understanding. If the occasion should arise, we'd demand help and protection fast enough. We should have the fortitude to withstand whatever inconveniences low flying aircraft or training maneuvers engender. It's to our advantage to do so, I say, "Let them come and welcome."

Frances E. Gunther

To the Editor:

With the rest of the civilized world we the citizens of Bethel are not unmindful of our good fortunes, struggling with long stretches of sub zeros, the business of frozen drains and water pipes is serious and our faithful Water District, when called, comes pronto. We take so many utilities for granted, but let the faucets refuse service, the hydrants either fail to respond or over function with an annoying and dangerous build up of icy streets and sidewalks, and we are quick to holler.

And this is a timely word of appreciation to those public servants who also go above and beyond their duty with cheerfulness and efficiency.

Resident of Park Street

To the Editor:

Recently Governor Brennan listed several suggested ways to cut the state budget. One of his proposals was to eliminate the Bookmobile. This travelling library provides rural residents with books right in their own area.

We're sure a great many Citizen readers utilize the Bookmobile. We plan our schedules around the Bookmobile's monthly visits. It is encouraging to see a number of young people making their selections right along with the adults.

We encourage other regular users of the Bookmobile to make their support known, by contacting our area representative, Karen Brown.

SEN. WILLIAM COHEN

From Washington

The complexity of our progressive tax code has given rise to unintended "penalties" that create unequal circumstances for thousands of taxpayers. One such penalty that has received a great deal of attention recently is the "marriage penalty."

I have co-sponsored legislation to eliminate the marriage tax penalty by allowing married individuals the option of filing separate tax returns using the rate schedule for single persons. Under the current tax structure, the total tax for two wage earners frequently increases upon marriage, thereby creating a disincentive

for marriage, although love usually proves stronger than the tax payments. For example, a couple earning combined gross incomes of $20,000, in which the husband earns $15,000 and the wife earns

$5,000, pays $150 more in tax than paid by single persons earning the same income in the same proportions.

Whether or not love conquers the

L.R.S., it is still unfair for such a penalty to exist in the tax codes.

In 1969, when Congress lowered the rate schedules for single persons, it inadvertently raised the marriage tax penalty that occurs when both spouses earn incomes.

Moreover, the dramatic social changes that have taken place in the last two decades have added to the impact of the marriage tax penalty. In 1950, only 18% of wives living with their husbands worked.

In 1977, nearly half of all such wives worked. Today, six of every 10 marriages have two wage earners, and it is projected that by 1990, two-thirds to three-quarters of all married women will be

Auto Service Tips

Some car owners always believe the carburetor is at fault any time there is indication of poor engine performance. Surveys indicate 80 per cent of the time the fault lies with other problems — a plugged PCV system, leaky manifold or bad valve. Check all problem sources before dismantling carburetor.

The Week in Washington

by Sen. George J. Mitchell

Inauguration

Last week's Presidential inauguration is one of the events which all Americans take for granted and which, at the same time represents one of the most unique aspects of our democratic republic. The orderly transfer of power, in accordance with the expressed will of the people, from one Administration to another.

The simultaneous, minute-by-minute suspense of the release of our fellow citizens from their 14-month-long captivity at the hands of the revolutionary Iranian government heightened both the tensions of the day and the sense of national renewal and hope that are always part of a Presidential inauguration.

The coming months and years will test the new Administration, the Congress, and the American people.

We must overcome the inflationary pressures within our economic structure. We must develop and put into place a long-term and reliable way to provide a job for every American willing and able to work. And we must deal imaginatively and compassionately with the changing face of our own population — as it ages, as it moves from larger cities, as its skills respond to the challenge of high technology work.

Internationally, we must maintain our strong relationships with our allies, but we must make them understand that alliance involves shared obligations as well as shared wealth. We must reduce the dangerous tensions in the world that threaten our peace and our future. And we must work, by ourselves and with other civilized nations, to root out the scourge of terrorism that threatens all peoples.

The beginning of a new Administration is always a time for the American people to take stock of the past and present and to dedicate themselves to the tasks that the future demands.

The broad goals I have outlined will translate into sometimes difficult, sometimes costly and sometimes inconvenient decisions. It is the responsibility of the Congress to seek to resolve the difficulties, the cost, and lessen the inconveniences. But we cannot shrink from the reality that there will be difficulties, inconveniences, and costs.

As a member of the Senate, I will work to represent the best interests of Maine and the nation. I will support effective solutions to our problems. And I will do my best to make my contribution in substantive and meaningful solutions to our problems.

The return of our 52 fellow citizens from an intolerable captivity marks the end of one national trial. Others lie before us, but so, too, do national rewards, successes and fulfillment.

ATTORNEY GENERAL WARNS MAINE RESIDENTS TO BEWARE OF OIL REBATE SCHEME

Attorney General James E. Tierney has warned Maine residents to beware of a rebate scheme being promoted by an Alabama company called the Retail Oil Association. This company is attempting to place advertisements in Maine newspapers offering to return 50 cents for each gallon of gasoline, diesel oil, propane or home heating oil purchased in 1981. To participate, the consumer is required to pay a $5.00 fee in advance.

The Attorney General stated that the company is currently under investigation by the Alabama Attorney General and the Postal Authorities and that the Federal Department of Energy has never heard of the company or its rebate program.

Alabama officials indicate that the advertisement is being published throughout the nation but company officials have been unable to explain how the program will work.

Therefore, Maine residents are urged to use caution and to avoid sending money until the company demonstrates that it has sufficient funds to make rebates.

I.R.S. OFFERS HELP TO AREA RESIDENTS

A representative from the Internal Revenue Service will be providing walk-in taxpayer service assistance to Rumford area residents, J. J. Jennings, Director of the I.R.S. Augusta District, has stated. Assistance is available at the Post Office Building, Congress Street, on Friday, Jan. 30; Friday, Feb. 6, and Friday, April 10, 1981, from 12 noon to 4 p. m.

Director Jennings added that if the questions can be answered by telephone, residents can save time by simply calling the I.R.S. (toll free) at 1-800-452-8750.

To help provide courteous response and accurate information, I.R.S. occasionally monitors telephone calls. No record is maintained of the taxpayer's name, address or social security number.

A program of some 40 non-degree courses ranging from chair caning to sign language is being offered at the University of Maine at Orono's Memorial Union and sponsored by FOCUS, a division of student affairs. Arts and craft courses including drawing in several media, Easter egg decorating, italic handwriting and silkscreen painting. Other courses include cake decorating, cardio-pulmonary resuscitation, flytying, basic dog obedience, childbirth classes, summer job-hunting techniques, resume writing, human growth seminar on overcoming the shy syndrome, meditation and Jewish thoughts and ethics. There is a $12 registration fee for non-students while students must pay $7. Registration opened Jan. 26.

SCHEDULE OF CITIZENS' X-C RACES ANNOUNCED

Sunday River Ski Touring Center has announced the following schedule of Citizens' Cross Country Ski Races for the 1981 race season: Saturday, Feb. 7, Sunday River Run (3k and 5k courses); Wednesday, Feb. 18, Bethel Winter Carnival Race (3k and 5k); Sunday, March 8, Ninth Annual Sunday Langlauf (5k and 10k). All races will be mass-start with each race beginning at 1:30 p. m. on the designated day. Registration will be held on the day of the race.

In addition to its standard Citizens' races, the Touring Center will again host its season-transition thriller, the Pole, Paddle, and Paw Race on Sunday, March 29. The P., P., & P., now in its third year, is becoming famous with competitors and spectators alike as a way to break out of the winter doldrums and greet the approach of spring. In the race the competitors begin with a mass-start on cross country skis, then switch to canoes for a wildwater ride down the Sunday River and finally to snowshoes for a trek to the finish line. Spectators do their share of moving, too, as they travel from one vantage point to another to watch the action. Mark your calendar. Whether you participate as a racer or an onlooker it's an event you won't want to miss.

Sent in by Eva Yates:

A cloudy Monday morning—and oh so much warmer—25 above—Gosh maybe we will get that January thaw yet. What will February bring us? Any snow? I doubt it. We warmed up the old Go Shoes yesterday, and were already to put our coats on when company came so back on the hook went the Go Shoes. They went out to Grange on Saturday so it was not too bad and I had not seen my 36th great grand baby until yesterday. He is O.K. I think there are a lot of people that hope for an early and warm spring (and it will come) to thaw out their cesspools—water pipes etc. It's terribly hard on those that have a nice bathroom where they waste barrels of water everyday without a thought. It is much harder than it is on us that don't have these new fangled contraptions.
Laura Hutchins and Mandy Lynn made us one of those fly-in-fly-out calls last evening.
Mrs. Gail Martin and son, Billy, of Florida, visited her half brother, J. T. Yates and family, this past week.
Mrs. Lucy Billings and Miranda Lynn, called on their grandmother, Eva, and uncle, Joe, Tuesday p.m.
We sure did enjoy three or four days break in the freezing weather over the week end.

ELEANOR GORDON GUILD

HELD MEETING JAN. 23
The Eleanor Gordon Guild met at the home of Judy Barker, Wednesday evening, Jan. 21, with nine members present.
Betty Blake offered devotions after which the secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and accepted. A balance of $112.13 was reported.
Debbie Adams thanked the Guild for the Sunday School Christmas stockings.
It was voted to have penny stockings to fill during the year. A donation was sent to the March of Dimes.
Cindy Blake and Doris Fraser were welcomed as new members.
The next meeting will be at Betty Blake's home on Feb. 18. Devotions will be offered by Debbie Adams and the program will be a silent auction.

Eva and Joe Yates were Darnita Yates from Sanford, and Mrs. B. H. Yates, local.
Sunday afternoon callers at Eva and Joe Yates were her granddaughter, Mrs. Elyse Fisher and two boys, Bradley and Terrence, and Terry King, and two daughters, Beth and Karen, of Lisbon. Terrence is my 36th great grandchild. He is quite a chap at nearly two months—but a full belly and sound sleep was all that interested him.

Bear River Grange #285 met Saturday P. M. following a pot luck dinner. The Master filled her chair and Deputies Lewis and Myrtle Bisbee were welcomed as always. He will be at this grange for inspection April 25 and hopefully all officers will be present. The next regular meeting will be Feb. 4. Visitors are all welcome and most always they are put to work. Is that fair? And don't forget the Grange work shop at Norway Grange, Feb. 28. It's a chance for all officers to learn and it's a good time too. Norway Grange will sell lunches at noon.
Snomachines run wild—traffic up Sunday River is one steady streak so somebody must be busy.
Keep free of the colds and flu—they hang on desperately and remember it's almost house cleaning time—Oh Dear.

West Bethel

At the special church meeting of the West Bethel Union Church Sunday it was voted to purchase a mimeograph. The committee appointed to check on machines is Arthur Gilbert, Florice Paul, Evanna Grover and Arthur Head.
There will be babysitting for the morning services at the Union Church beginning Feb. 1. Young parents are invited to the church services.

The West Bethel Youth Group enjoyed a social evening on Thursday evening. Final plans were made for the swimming party at West Paris.
Twenty-five members and guests enjoyed the swimming party on Sunday evening. Many thanks to the chaperones and those who furnished transportation. Adults attending were Arthur and Sheila Head, Roy Newton, Lidel Thompson, Loreita Merrill and Jeannette Kimball. Rev. Rust was missed by everyone. He was unable to attend because of illness. — Sally Snyder, Secretary.

The services at the Pleasant Valley Bible Church were well attended on Sunday.
Sisters Dorothy West and Ellen Lovejoy were the organists, playing the organ and piano.
Ellen Lovejoy's solo was "The Way That He Loves," with her sister, Dorothy playing the piano. The choir of nine voices, four men and five ladies, sang "I Sing the Mighty Power of God."

Pastor Griffith's message was on "Christ's Return." Dennis Kanten assisted at the pulpit.
An offering was taken for the returned missionary, Miss Ruth Martin, who just underwent surgery.
The building committee had a short meeting following the service.

On Jan. 19, the Women's Circle met at Diana Kanten's. Reports were given on flowers and sunshine boxes sent out and plans made for the coming months, including Valentine boxes. Those attending were Diane Tran, Sally Hannon, Elaine Hutchins, Ann Mason, Marion Griffith, Carol Daily, Maureen Swain, Martha McLean, Mabel Walker, Harriet Stowell, Debbie Luxton, Davenne Mitchell, and Diane Kanten, the hostess. The Feb. 16 meeting will be with Mabel Walker.

Mike Stowell of Danbury, Conn., and his daughter, Suzanne, of Lisbon, N. H., were week end guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Stowell.

Master Christopher West, Rumford, was with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Lovejoy, all this week as his father, Ray West, remains in the hospital. His sister, Rebecca, joined them over the week end.

Alanson Cummings' 83rd birthday, Jan. 20, was quite a day, with the inauguration of the 40th President of the U. S. A., Ronald Reagan, and the release of the 52 hostages from Iran. He was given a party the night before at his daughter's, where he had his special cake and ice cream, and his gifts.

Mr. Cummings was at his doctor's in Harrison on Monday and Thursday for treatments. His arm is much better. He will enter Togus Hospital on Feb. 2 for a check up.

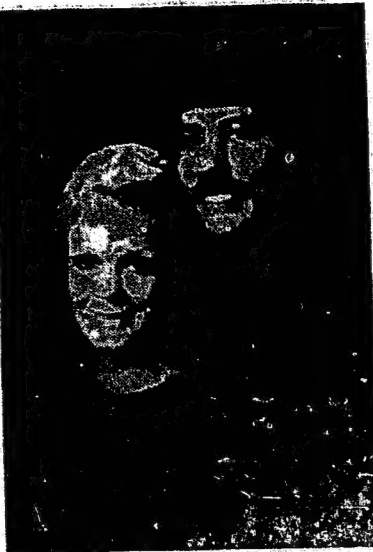

Cathryn Lovejoy worked a few hours helping Mrs. Dorothy Graves in Bethel, this week.

NEWS FROM MRS. BOUCHARD'S NURSERY SCHOOL

We are learning more about our bodies this week. We measured our feet and traced around them to compare sizes. We made puzzles about body parts and paper dolls that were as big as we are, and played a game identifying nose, ear, neck, hand, arm, leg, etc.

Four year olds learned about letter Dd which is Danny Barker's favorite letter. We cut and pasted pictures that begin with Dd and we printed some Dd's. Four year olds also counted objects and practiced printing some numbers.

Three year olds are identifying objects according to size. They also matched pictures of objects to real objects in the room and pronounced each word for a language lesson.

We all identified new animal pictures: seal, fox, robin, cheetah, dolphin, woodchuck, kangaroo, skunk, painted turtle, cuckoo, and monkey. We made up stories about an animal we liked.

Our art projects this week were: potato prints, lollipop faces, paper bag puppets and stencil designs. For snack time we made monkey bread, scrambled eggs, pancakes, and apple crunch.

Of course, solar heating is an important new construction technique through which builders are finding homes that incorporate solar features.

SOLAR
Robert E. LewisMisconceptions About
Solar Heating

As with any new technology, the development of solar heating systems has spawned a variety of misconceptions.

Fortunately, many of these misconceptions are slowly being dispelled as solar energy becomes an important part of our lives. With fuel prices soaring, thousands of consumers are actively seeking to learn more about solar energy as an effective alternative to conventional home heating methods.

But the fact remains that the majority of Americans still envision solar homes as brand new, awkward-looking buildings found exclusively in the Sun Belt. Ironically, this popular concept of the solar home contains three common misconceptions about solar heating.

First, solar heating systems are not restricted to new buildings. Most existing homes can be "retrofitted" with either active or passive heating systems. Because of their simplicity in design, passive solar heating designs are proving especially popular for use in older homes, either in terms of an attached solar room or as part of a remodeling plan.

Of course, solar energy still remains an important element of new construction. Major home-builders throughout the country are finding consumers especially interested in purchasing new homes that incorporate fuel-saving solar features.

The second misconception about solar homes is that they are strange or, by necessity, futuristic looking. While it is true that the hallmark of a home with an active solar heating system is its roof collectors, most architects today are incorporating these collectors into a home's architectural styling. The result is usually handsome and appealing.

Passive solar homes, on the other hand, look very similar to non-solar homes. While active solar homes require hardware and exterior attachments, passive systems use the building itself to collect and distribute heat—through design techniques and the building's orientation toward the sun. In fact, some of the most popular passive designs can be found in Cape Cod, colonial and raised-ranch style homes that differ little from their non-solar counterparts.

The third common misconception about solar homes is that they are usually found in the Sun Belt. The underlying misconception here is that solar heating is applicable only in regions where the sun shines virtually every day. In reality, solar energy systems can be used effectively in every part of the country, regardless of climatic conditions. In fact, solar heating systems remain as effective a way to reduce fuel consumption in Maine as in Arizona.

As more and more solar homes are being built around the country, Americans are taking the opportunity to tour these structures and learn exactly how solar energy can be harnessed to effectively heat and cool our homes.

In the meantime, you can learn more about the misconceptions surrounding solar energy heating by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Robert E. Lewis, (#4-A) P. O. Box 3680, Grand Central Station, New York, N. Y. 10017.

NEWS FROM ADULT
AND COMMUNITY EDUCATION
— M. S. A. D. #44

Publicity is out and sign-ups are on for the Winter/Spring Adult and Community Education courses in S. A. D. #44. In addition to the familiar Courses guide, which was sent to former students by mail and is available at community locations in S. A. D. #44, a new hand-out was developed to lend a humorous note to the very serious subject of adult high school diploma programs and courses. The "Coffee-Break Gazette" was sent home with elementary school students and has been distributed at local places of employment. Both publications contain the complete schedule of classes, and registration information.

The week of Jan. 26, saw the start of a new and exciting development in the local Adult and Community Education program, the beginning of adult daytime high school credit programs. The Town of Bethel and the Bethel Fire Department are providing the use of the meeting room at the Fire Station and the program will begin with two courses. On Monday mornings, Andrea Hoyt of Bryant Pond will teach a class in Refreshers Math from 9-12, and on Thursday mornings, Barbara Lucas of Bethel will teach Basic English.

The new arrangement allows people who work nights to participate in the program and offers the chance to accumulate more credits per semester for those who can combine day and evening classes. Many thanks to the Town of Bethel and the Firemen for their support.

In early February, a two-day workshop will be held in Bethel to train tutors to work with adults and high school students with reading problems. The session will be conducted by Don Bouchard, state coordinator of Literacy Volunteers in Maine, and is open to anyone who would like to offer an hour or two per week as a tutor. The S. A. D. #44 Adult and Community Education program is handling the arrangements for the training session and the recruitment of tutors, and the Telstar Guidance Department will match tutors who wish to help out in the high school with a student in need of help. Anyone interested should call Adult Education, 824-2125.

U.M.W. TO MEET
THURSDAY, FEB. 5

The United Methodist Women will be meeting on Thursday, Feb. 5, at 1:30 p. m. at the Bethel Methodist Church. Hostesses are Mrs. Edna York and Mrs. Doris Fraser. Guest speaker will be Miss Beth Hoyt of Bryant Pond and Berlin, N. H. Members who have not turned in their World Banks are reminded to bring them to this meeting.

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

A month has already been subtracted from winter. Our birds appear earlier at the feeders. The days are noticeably longer.

As the sun cleared the hills, beyond the pond blue jays and grosbeaks came swooping in to join the chickadees, nuthatches, and woodpeckers. These royal beggars in velvet coats come each day for the offerings awaiting them.

A few days ago I took a solitary walk. Overhead streamed the earth ceiling of broken shapes and a brilliant sun. Above the ice of the pond there was little snow, so I took a trail toward the mouth of the Sanborn River. The pleasant afternoon was full of the vast silence of the country side.

Crossing the mouth of the river I made my way along the edge of the pond toward the back shore. Winter had spread a blanket, putting diamonds on the snow. The bushes along the shore line gleamed brighter against the whiteness.

A gentle breeze swayed the winter grasses and the dead golden-rod.

I circled the pond and back to the river. I felt liberated with so little snow, so I walked up the river. I also thought of how grateful I was to be out here under the blue sky for it was a few years ago at this time I was having open heart surgery.

In a spot near an opening, the swirling wind had partially uncovered the wooly rosette of a mullein plant. I lifted a leaf, as I scraped away a bit of snow, to feel of it, so thick and flannel.

North Paris

— Eveline Barrett, Corres. —

Several attended the meeting of the West Paris Historical Society, Jan. 19, at the old fire hall, West Paris. The next meeting, a fish chowder supper, will be served Feb. 17.

Eveline Barrett went to Stephens Memorial Hospital for X-rays, Jan. 19 and 20, as an outpatient. On Jan. 21, she carried Mrs. Annie Pietila to the hospital for a blood test.

We have a new rural mail carrier on Rte. 2 but I have not had a chance to find out his name, but I will soon.

Did everybody wear a yellow ribbon to welcome home the hostesses? I tied two yellow ribbons outdoors on the trees.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Lawrence attended a surprise 51st wedding party for Maynard and Helen Emery of Mechanic Falls, Jan. 25. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penley, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Record, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card also attended and the guests carried the feast and a decorated cake and had fun.

The Girl Scouts are taking orders for the Girl Scout cookies this week. Let's all patronize them.

James Coffin, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott, Doris and Root Lawrence called on Eveline Barrett and Joe Vatcher.

Did everyone enjoy our January thaw? Be on the watch for the ground hog.

Like. A plant like this is a lovely winter home for tiny hibernators, such as minute spiders, beetles, and springtails.

Near a clump of junipers, I discovered in the snow a band of lacework made by tiny footprints. I leaned down to observe how these little pawprints branched out, criss-crossed, and wove together, as the tiny mice hunted for seeds.

I walked on and looked at the mystery and purity of the snow. There is always beauty in its curve where the wind has been at play.

Quite well up the river there is a large tree on which has grown a huge knot which resembles a doughnut. I have photographed it, as it is a novelty.

I walked as far up river as I could then turned back toward home. Facing this way I could see Noyes Mountain with its dignified beeches in the openings surrounded by spruces, firs, pines, hemlocks. I also noted the ladies of the woodland, the birches, slender, graceful, and white in their robes with lacy frills of curling bark.

Reaching the pond again I headed toward my R. F. D. box and shortly climbed the bank and went up my driveway.

Soon sunset glory lingered in the sky above the hills. Later appeared the moon, big and round. The gold ball had risen above the mountain rim to shine its way through the night.

"Come and walk with me, along the snowy ways,
Enjoy the crisp feel, of cold and golden days.

Come and walk with me, beside the icy stream,
Listen to it singing, lightly flinging, winter's theme.

Come and walk with me, around a woody bend,
Discover footprints, soft sprits, to foxes den.

Come and walk with me, to wait the evening fall,
Watch the sun turn pink, slowly sink, this is best of all."

—Diane Workman Scott

Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt had the following visitors on Sunday and for dinner: Robert, Jeri, Danny, Richard Holt, Windsor; David Holt, Dexter; Ann Holt, Bethel.

NEWRY SELECTMEN AND BETHEL WATER DISTRICT OFFICIALS DISCUSS TAXES

Newry Selectmen Roger E. Hanscom, Willard A. Wight and Stephen W. Wight met with Bethel Water District Trustees Donald G. Bennett and Robert Saunders and Water District Superintendent Richard Enright Wednesday morning, Jan. 21, to discuss taxation of water district land located in the town of Newry.

The District Trustees and Bethel Selectmen are asking the Legislature for charter changes which include exemption from taxation for Water District property wherever located. Newry Selectmen are opposing the change.

The Trustees expressed concern that changes in or repeal of the Tree Growth Tax Law would increase their taxes to a point where it would be necessary to ask for a water rate increase. Under Tree Growth the taxes on the property for 1980 were $872.30. Without Tree Growth the taxes would have been $2,518.88.

The Trustees are asking that special consideration be given to the District land, with a lower valuation placed on the property. Newry selectmen felt that this should not be done without a vote of the Town.

Selectman Roger Hanscom suggested that in the event the District property was given a lower valuation the Town of Bethel should, in return, give Newry as-

Insurance that they would give special consideration to Newry when figuring the fees for use of the Bethel Landfill and for Ambulance Service, which Bethel provides.

The Newry Selectmen-Assessors felt that they could not legally place a lower valuation on the property, than on other similar property in town. Hanscom contacted the Bureau of Taxation Wednesday afternoon and this was confirmed.

The District Trustees suggested that the Trustees, and Newry Selectmen meet with Karen Brown, Representative to the Legislature, to discuss asking the Legislature to grant the District exemption from taxation, such an exemption to be effective only when accepted by the voters of the Town of Newry. Hanscom stated that he felt that if Newry granted the District any tax exemption that the Town of Bethel should, in turn, give Newry equal consideration in setting fees for any services which Bethel provides Newry.
